We are All Called to be Doormen

Perhaps Saint André Bessette should be named the Patron saint for this issue of Nowadays.

St. André was orphaned at a very early age, lived a life of extreme poverty, and had little opportunity to go to school. He would be termed illiterate in today's standards because he was barely able to write his name. He was short in stature and struggled with health issues. However, this did not deter him from his desire to become a member of the Congregation of the Holy Cross.

After three years of being a novitiate, he was denied admittance. This decision was later changed, and he was admitted to the order and given the job as doorman.

Brother André committed himself to this job by taking care of each student and every parent who came to the school. He also reached out to beggars, and before long hundreds were coming to him for prayers of healing. Brother Andre had a deep love for St. Joseph, the Foster Father of Jesus, and would entrust the beggars' healing to Jesus Christ through the intercession of St. Joseph.

countless achievements of the students of Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School in many areas: academic, the arts, athletics, and service. These accomplishments are due to the students' dedication and hard work, but also to their parents' support and teacher involvement. They are the doormen helping to open the doors of possibilities.

You will also read about the many donors that have supported MCPS through their gifts of time, talent, and treasure. Through their generosity many wonderful things are happening at each of our campuses. We are so grateful to Partners in Catholic Education, PICE, which has provided over $1,000,000 to projects at our various campuses. Our donors, along with PICE, are the doormen

vast possibilities.

By the time you receive this publication we will have made the last loan payment, and our school will be debt free! God has graced us with the ability to pay down the debt, while maintaining a sound, rigorous Catholic education. This has positioned us to

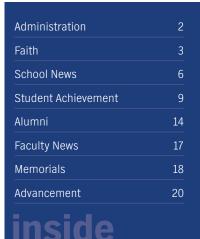

Planning process has been on going for the past 10 months, and on June 18 over 100 stakeholders, including our local priests, parents, and invited guests, came together to hammer out a plan that would map out MCPS's course. These people are the doormen for our school's future.

Thank you for helping us to support the mission of the Sisters of Loretto, begun in 1873, as we educate all students that come to us in order to lead them to a closer relationship with Christ while helping them to reach their God-given potential. You open the doors for countless students each year. Please remember to keep them in your daily prayers, and intercession of Saint Brother André

Nothing New Under the Sun

"There is nothing new under the sun." I often think of this quote from the Book of Ecclesiastes (1:9) when I read something written by or about one of the former bishops of our diocese.

Our first bishop, Michael Portier (1825-1859), faced a number of challenges. One of his greatest challenges was passing the faith of the Church on to the young. Bishop Portier had come to Alabama from France where there was a parish church in each village, and priests and religious taught Gospel values to young people. However, in Alabama, in what was then a frontier situation, there were few supports to the faith. People lived in small towns and settlements where priests and ministers would occasionally visit as they "rode the circuit."

Bishop Portier worked fervently to establish churches and schools where young people could receive both an education and a formation in the apostolic faith handed on in the Church. That motivation was foundational to his establishment of St. Peter Parish in Montgomery in 1834. Despite the challenges, it was necessary to teach, celebrate, and live the faith. He and many others, whose names are lost to us but not to God, taught the faith. It is with pride that we recall that the first schools in Alabama were Catholic schools.

In 1873 that same motivation inspired the Sisters of Loretto, in the difficult days of the unrest of Reconstruction, to establish a school which would offer education and formation in the faith to young people. That school would grow into Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School.

We too live in a time when our young people need an excellent education and a foundation in Gospel values. There are few societal supports of the faith in our increasingly pluralistic and secular culture. As truly as it was necessary to pass on the faith to the young on the Alabama frontier of the 1820's, it is necessary to pass the faith on to our young people today. Our young people will frequently encounter voices which will be unchristian, if not anti-Christian. Our young people need a strong foundation in the faith or they will twist in the wind.

This is the ministry of a Catholic school: to offer excellent education and formation in the faith. In doing so, it educates the entire student: academically, socially, physically and spiritually. Thank you to the administration, staff, faculty, families, and friends of MCPS. Educating and forming our young people are "nothing new under sun" but is greatly needed today. Thank you for carrying on this ministry of the Church.

I would like to tell you about a couple of important accomplishments that occurred over the past year that will go a long way towards determining the future of Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School. First, a Strategic Plan has been developed. Under the guidance of the Institute of School and Parish Development, the process of developing a strategic plan began in December 2014. The formulation of this plan involved discussions in ten planning areas that included Catholic culture, student life, faculty/staff, academics, technology, athletics, fine arts, finance, advancement and marketing, and facilities. Members of our community met regularly to discuss challenges and opportunities in each of these areas and to develop strategies for future development. The process culminated with convocation on June 17th, wherein key elements of each of the planning areas were prioritized. Finishing touches on the plan were completed over the past summer. What I found most appealing about this process is that it involved input from a broad spectrum of stakeholders in MCPS. Not only was the Advisory Committee involved, but so were current families, alumni, the faculty and administration, supporters of MCPS and our local Clergy. Consequently, this plan truly reflects the goals and ambitions of our community as a whole. On behalf of the Advisory Committee I would like to thank those individuals that participated in this process, and in particular, Erik Goldschmidt with ISPD for his leadership. The second accomplishment that I would like to report on is that by the time this article is published most, if not all, of the outstanding debt carried by MCPS will have been retired. This significant achievement was made possible through the financial support of our families, through the generosity of a great many contributors and through the prudent management and planning of the administration over the past several years. Based on these two accomplishments, Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School now has a plan in place to advance the quality of the education provided to our students and to the services provided to our families, and it also has the financial wherewithal to begin the process of implementing this plan.

In closing, I would like to take the opportunity to plug an event at MCPS. If you've not attended Homecoming at Catholic in a while, then please consider adding this to your plans. Over the past several years this event has grown considerably. Most notable among the activities is an Alumni tent where you can have catered dinner and catch up with friends and classmates. The class of 1982, one of the better classes in the long history of MCPS, was well represented at this past year's event. It is a very well planned and well attended event, and if you haven't been "home" in awhile, then know that the door is open for you. Go Knights!

MISSION STATEMENT

Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School is an integral part of the Catholic Church's mission to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ. As an adult community, we share in the responsibility to prepare students for college and beyond... helping them grow to become persons of faith, virtue, and wisdom.

Parent Teacher Council (PTC)

A key component of school life is the Parent Teacher Council (PTC). The importance of the PTC's providing support for faculty, staff, and students is immeasurable. Prayerfully, financially, and with enormous gifts of time, the school is richer because of their stewardship.

This year PTC presidents and administration discussed ways to be more effective in fundraising and communication as a unified PTC for Montgomery Catholic. The four PTC presidents decided to restructure PTC as one whole MCPS school organization led by one Parent Teacher Council to include a vice president at each campus.

Each campus vice president and parent volunteers will continue traditional school support as needed. Fundraising projects will consolidate as school wide fundraisers in the fall and spring. All funds will be held in a PTC school account. Allocation of money for school needs will be decided annually by the PTC upon review of needs submitted from the administration.

We are grateful to the 2014-2015 PTC presidents for their ongoing and diligent service to enhance the entire Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School. Thank you!

CHAT-N-CHEW

I have been asked to write this article on what "Chat N Chew" is and the importance of it to our local Catholic community. First of all, in a very direct and simple way, Chat-N-Chew is a gathering of leading members in the local Catholic community to discuss what is happening in religious education with regard to the Montgomery Catholic Prep School system. The leading members include local priests, school administration team members and other professionals who have an interest, stake, and role in Catholic education in Montgomery.

We meet regularly on the Montgomery Catholic campus to discuss the latest items of interest and we discuss any items that are brought forward by the local clergy. I find the meetings important because I find it is a good source of information of what is going on at all the campuses around town. It is important because we discuss the subsidies we provide from the local parishes to deserving families so that their children may benefit from an education with a solid Catholic view. I don't know about you, but I'm proud to be a Catholic, and that is saying a lot residing in the Southern Bible Belt! I find it is also a good opportunity for us priests to come together just to see one another and get caught-up. We do not see each other very often, as being busy in our various realms does not always afford us the luxury of visiting one another and "getting caught-up." Besides, we receive a free lunch, sometimes homemade!

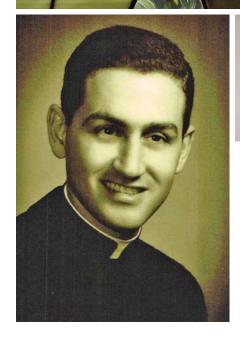

As a Catholic priest, I believe in the importance of Catholic education for our children and I want to make sure it is the best education possible. Our "Chat-N-Chew" meetings are an important way of making sure that happens in our beloved Montgomery area.

Faith of a Mustard Seed

Recent studies have revealed some very interesting and positive news about our Archdiocese. From the years 2010-2012 the Archdiocese of Mobile ordained 17 men to the priesthood while numbering approximately 67,000 Catholics. That means that there was one ordination to the priesthood for every 3,900 Catholics. To put that in perspective, if you calculated those numbers in comparison to those for the Archdiocese of New York with 2.5 million Catholics, that would be the equivalent of almost 680 ordinations to the priesthood. While we give thanks to God for His generosity in providing us with godly men to be priests of Jesus Christ, we also rejoice about the news that over the same three year period (2010-12) there were 1,216 recorded adults who came into the Church, with about 405 adults per year, for an astounding one adult conversion per 56 Catholics.

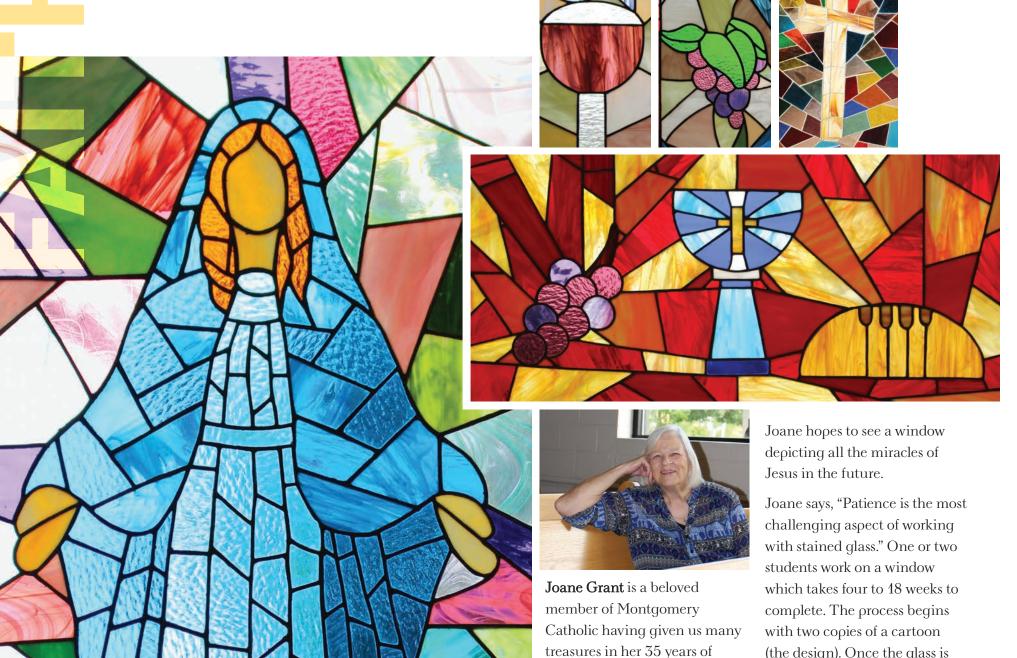

Again, if we compare numbers with New York that would be about 45,000 adult conversions to the Church that Jesus Christ founded. I want to stress that these comparisons are only for the purpose of putting things in perspective in order to appreciate how we have been blessed in the Archdiocese of Mobile, especially under the leadership of Archbishop Rodi. Just as with the Archdiocese, so too with us at Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School. We currently have two seminarians and a religious sister among our recent graduates. Daniel Spotswood and Thomas Herge are moving ever closer towards ordination and Sr. Domenica (Natalie Bickerton) took her final vows in 2014 as a member of the Nashville Dominicans. And, like the Archdiocese, we have seen quite a few students, faculty, and staff enter into the Church over the past 5 years. In fact, over 20 students have said "yes" to Jesus Christ and His Church since 2010.

We must be careful not to reduce the faith to a statistical breakdown. The call of Jesus Christ is never reducible to mere demographic breakdowns. The faith is about making and forming disciples who day by day learn to say "yes" to Christ and His will. However, it is helpful time to time to take a step back and consider how God is using the Archdiocese of Mobile and Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School to advance His Kingdom on earth, as it is in heaven.

Joane's favorite student lesson is the craft of stained glass. Because of her love for the artistry and to the students who created each of the masterpieces, we now enjoy six beautiful stained glass windows in our High School chapel.

service. At Queen of Mercy, she taught art and history for 25 years in grades six through eight, and she just completed 10 years teaching art in the Middle and High School.

Joane learned the stained glass techniques from local artist, Gloria Simons and then decided to bring that knowledge to her students. She planned that each stained glass window was going to the chapel – a commitment she has kept.

"I enjoy the windows because they remind me of early communications in the Church when most lay people could not read...the students are an awesome and talented group. They get very excited about the projects in brainstorming new designs...the windows are their creations from start to finish."

(the design). Once the glass is selected, the cartoon is placed on a square board where glass pieces are worked in from the square corner out. Then each glass piece is wrapped with copper tape and then soldered together. The window is custom framed as an in-kind gift by Dr. Steven LoBello.

Whether you are going to the chapel for personal prayer, to attend Mass, or to go with your theology teachers for retreat, the windows add an enhanced presence of Christ in the tabernacle. The striking stained glass windows will be a permanent reminder of our faith and mission. We are grateful!

Meanwhile, Joane is our daily dose of realizing God and His many gifts. Whether we observe her kind and gentle classroom techniques or listen to her stories of home gardening and the joy it brings her, we come to realize that she gets it...the world is simply beautiful when you allow yourself to slow down and let our Lord Jesus Christ residing in the chapel come completely into your life.

Martha Jane Belke was born into a hard working German Catholic family in Louisville's upper west end. She was the sixth of seven girls born to Mary Catherine Huff Belke and John Phillip Belke. Mary Margaret and Loretto Marcella were nine and six years older than Martha; Carolyn Frances was five years younger. Three sisters didn't survive infancy.

Martha's early childhood coincided with the Depression and was culminated by the Louisville flood of 1937, in which her family lost everything. She and her sisters attended St. Benedict's Parochial School and were taught by the Sisters of Loretto. In her detailed autobiography, Martha's love of the Sisters rings through story after story of her grade school years. Yet, when it came time to go to high school, she confessed, "I decided that I did not want to follow my older sisters to [Loretto Academy], Broadway. This presented a major problem in my Mother's mind. She absolutely did not understand why I wanted to be different and go to Presentation Academy [with the Charity Sisters]. She talked with Mother Agnes Marie who advised my mother to let me go to Pres...I would probably do better there than being forced to go to Broadway. "

Throughout her high school years, Martha made it a habit to visit the Loretto Sisters at St. Benedict's after school one day every week, doing chores, grading or organizing test papers. One day toward the end of her Junior year at Pres, Loretto Sister Ora asked Martha what she was going to do when she graduated. "Without hesitation, I said, 'I am going to Loretto.' That was a bit bold, since I had not asked anyone if they wanted me. I took for granted that if that was what I wanted, they would be glad for me to come." And indeed, Reverend Mother Edwarda's welcoming letter was warm and gracious. Martha arrived at the Motherhouse on October 25, 1945 and was received into Loretto as Sister Mary Joel on April 25, 1946.

Martha later wrote, "Novitiate days were far better than I had expected." Her many stories of the novitiate years ring with the same affection that Martha showed as a child for the Sisters at St. Benedict's. One of Martha's duties, for the entire two and a half years of her novitiate, was to starch the "protectors," the white linings for the sisters' veils, a job that grew and grew as the numbers of sisters and novices at the Motherhouse increased in the late 1940s. Martha's novitiate coincided with other changes as well. The church was remodeled. The "middle building" was taken down, and the Infirmary was built in its place. Sister Rose Vincent began Ward classes, every day, with all

On August 15, 1948, Martha made her first vows and left immediately for St. Philomena's school in Denver, with time for barely 20 minutes' visit with her parents at the train station in Louisville. "During this first year of teaching I had 48 second and third graders. Sister Godfrey was the superior and principal, a wonderful person. If it had not been for her great example and encouragement, I would never have survived all these years as a Sister of Loretto." In the summer of 1949, Martha had all her teeth extracted and bone surgery performed on her jaw.

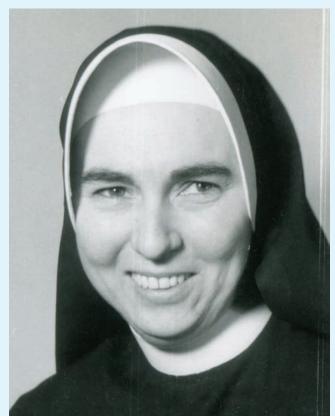

At the end of summer retreat, having recuperated at Loretto Heights, Martha left Denver to go to Rockford Illinois and her second mission to teach 36 first graders. The year was difficult for Martha; her four companions in the convent were generations older; the heat system was faulty. "Since I was the only young Sister in the house, I had many heavy jobs to do as well as the ordinary duties. I spent most recreation days by myself. I had one cold after another [and] the doctor finally decided that I must have TB. I was shipped off to Denver at the beginning of Holy Week and spent the next two months in bed at the Heights, [with pneumonia, not TB.] This was a hard time, but Sister Antonella Marie would sometimes entertain me with stories of her days in China. Sister Ethelbert was able to keep despair from the door by her daily visits."

There followed a string of brief assignments: two years at St. John's in Denver; one year at St. Patrick's in El Paso; one year at New Town Las Vegas, New Mexico. Three consecutive years was her longest assignment, at Loretto Academy, Santa Fe, where she taught primary grades and lived twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week with the youngest boarders. Suddenly and quite unexpectedly everything changed. "Nearly through my summer school classes at Loretto Heights, I was paged by Mother Eileen Marie, who told me I was to be sent to El Paso to teach Chemistry. I was taken aback [and replied], 'Mother I don't even have a degree.' Her reply was very quiet: 'that's alright dear, just be careful in the lab'."

So in 1958, with virtually no preparation, Martha began her forty-year career as a science teacher. Three years at Loretto in El Paso teaching Chemistry and General Science were followed by a year of full time study to finally complete her undergraduate degree. Martha's health didn't permit her going back to Denver's high altitude, so she enrolled at Nazareth College in Louisville, which allowed her to be near her parents and family. When she graduated in May of 1962, Martha knew that she was destined to replace Sister Rosalie at Montgomery Catholic High School in Alabama. But she had hardly arrived in Montgomery when she had word that her father was dying. She hurriedly took a train back to Louisville, arriving in time for his funeral.

In Montgomery, Martha lived briefly in the old Gerald Mansion which had been built in 1851 and purchased by the Sisters of Loretto in 1873 for their new St. Mary's of Loretto Academy. Almost ninety years later, St. Mary's of Loretto Academy high school had become Montgomery Catholic High School and moved across the street; the grade school was closing and the building was about to be taken down. Martha wrote later, "It took all the time from August 11 to December 15 just to get rid of things that we could not use, and to make arrangements for transporting what we need from the old house to the new convent at Our Lady Queen of Mercy twenty minutes south from the high school. This was December 1962 and there were 12 of us at that time." Over the next fifteen years, the number of Loretto Sisters would steadily decrease until Martha and Sister Leo Marie Reynolds were the only ones left.

Both in her autobiography and in a 2012 interview, Martha told her experiences of racial tensions and the struggles for civil rights in Montgomery. "The Gerald Mansion was across the street from the Court House. Shortly after getting settled, before we moved south, some of us went to register to vote. The first thing I noticed in the foyer were two drinking fountains. One had a sign over it which read WHITE, and the sign over the other read BLACK. My first reaction was to go over to get a drink from the BLACK fountain.

"These were exciting years. This was the time when President Kennedy was shot (1963). Integration of Catholic schools was announced by our Bishop Toolen (1964). Marches on the Capitol [very near our school] were organized by Jesse Jackson (January 1965). Bombs were planted under homes, threats of bombs in school were reported and we would have to evacuate the school until the firemen came to check the building. An FBI agent came to the convent one Saturday and asked if I taught my Chemistry students how to make bombs. I did nothing of the sort, so he went off, pleased."

"The Selma March took place (March 1965) and all the schools were in session, mainly to keep the students from getting into trouble. After school when we were ready to go home, the principal followed us for fear that someone might give us trouble. During the Selma March, the marchers camped on the grounds of St. Jude, a college prep school for Black students near Montgomery. After the Selma march, when it came time for Catholic High to relocate to the south side of town, the land owners wouldn't give the right of way for our water and sewer lines because Catholics had housed blacks during the march."

Through the turmoil and slow progress, Martha worked diligently, focusing on her students and her teaching. In 1976 she wrote, "I am now able to enjoy an integrated school in which problems, while they have not been completely solved, are at least being attached from a sensible point of view." In later years, Martha applied for Loretto Venture Fund monies to create a curriculum program called The Fifth Wall, to improve crosscultural understanding and appreciation of other people's beliefs and struggles.

Meanwhile, Sister Martha had become an anchor and a rock at Montgomery Catholic High School. Drafted into the role of Assistant Principal, her perseverance during several difficult administrations was rewarded when Tom Doyle became principal. Martha immediately won his support and encouragement. He saw that Martha was trained in the latest techniques and had the highest quality equipment to teach science as a hands-on learning experience. For twenty-seven years they worked as a team. When Martha retired from Montgomery Catholic High School in 1997, Tom Doyle announced the school would build a new science and media center and name it The Sister Martha Belke Center.

Retired to Loretto Motherhouse, Martha gave ten years to the Finance Office keeping all our Medicare records in order. When she retired from that job, she gave another eight years as our IT specialist, keeping convent computer lab up and running.

On April 12, 2015, Montgomery Catholic High School posted this announcement on its website:

Today We Remember Sister Martha

The last Sister of Loretto to teach at Montgomery Catholic High School, Sister Martha Jane Belke died peacefully on Sunday, April 12, 2015. She came to us in 1962 and taught science for 35 years, retiring in 1997. We give thanks for her gifts to our school and we remember her today with the prayer Sister Martha began class with each day,

We give Thee glory, thanks, and praise.

O Bless our works and guide our ways. Amen.

New Digs Across MCPS Campuses

St. Bede the Venerable Playground

In the fall St. Bede Parish and Partners in Catholic Education (PICE) financed a new elementary school playground and learning center. Many school volunteers contributed time for the construction site located on the parish school grounds between the original school and the annex . The area answers a longstanding need of new and expanded outdoor facilities for the St. Bede elementary students and parish youth, serving all of these children year round.

🚺 Holy Spirit Parish Gymnasium

Archbishop Thomas J. Rodi dedicated the new Holy Spirit Parish gymnasium on February 22, 2015. The funding came from across the Catholic community with gifts from parishioners, school parents, faculty, and staff. The facility will relieve an enormous need for basketball and volleyball practice areas as well as increased needed space for parish and community events at Holy Spirit.

New Parking Lot for Middle – High School Campus

The ongoing humorous warning, "Beware of parking lot pot holes lest you disappear!" is no longer valid. On Labor Day weekend, the entire campus was resurfaced and striped for the first time in 15 years by Alexander Sealcoating. We are most grateful to the owner of the business, Mr. Mark Alexander! MCPS families and visitors alike now enjoy a smooth ride from entrance to exit.

New MCPS Bus

Through the generosity of PICE, a 77 passenger Blue Bird school bus was purchased for use by all MCPS campuses. Many think of the bus for athletic events however it facilitates much more. Field trips, academic competitions, community service projects, band competitions, and any transportation need for our students is often met with the use of the school bus.

Freedom Wall

In spring 2015, the Exchange Club of Montgomery installed a Freedom Shrine in Miles Hall of the High School campus. On May 15, 2015, Tommy Holliman, President, dedicated the gift to MCPS and Fr. Patrick Driscoll, Pastor of Holy Spirit Parish, bestowed blessings on the shrine in Miles Hall. The Freedom Shrine was created by the National Exchange Club to strengthen citizen appreciation of our American Heritage.

Holy Spirit Laptop Cart

PICE provided a Macbook cart, Macbook Air, and 30 Macbook Air laptops for our Holy Spirit Campus. The gift will integrate technology into the classroom and facilitate specific computer projects throughout the year.

Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School Celebrated Catholic Schools Week

Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School celebrated Catholic Schools Week, January 26 - 30. The 2015 theme was "Catholic Schools: Communities of Faith, Knowledge and Service." K4-12 students participated in special events throughout the week celebrating Faith, Knowledge and Service in our Community, Nation, Vocations, and Faculty & Students.

Grandparents were invited to our St. Bede elementary campus for Grandparents' Day on Monday, January 26, and the Holy Spirit campus held a book fair all week. The St. Bede campus art show "Raindrops Keep Falling on my Head" was on display in the main hallway all week. The Montgomery Catholic Parent Teacher Council treated students, faculty, and staff to several special events and treats throughout the week. The High School attended the National School Choice rally at the State Capitol. The Montgomery Catholic Middle School campus welcomed guest speakers on Career day, including Catholic Coach, Kirk Johnson, a former All American football player and Coach; Barry Waite, a motivational speaker; Gwen Kennedy, an Attorney with the Family and Juvenile Court system; and Lisa Hoffman, former Air Force Officer and Wellness Coach. The Elementary campuses had classroom visits and blessings from

Harbin Distinguished Service Award Winner Martha Huett ('72)

Martha "Marty" Rupert Huett was honored by Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School on May 4, as the 2015 Charlie Harbin Distinguished Service Award winner for her service to the school.

Montgomery Catholic's president, Mrs. Anne Ceasar, presented Marty with an engraved clock, kicking off the 2015 Montgomery Catholic High School Campus Academic Awards.

Marty Huett has always been available for her Alma Mater, but certainly when both of her sons attended in the mid 1990's.

Her service to Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School spans over 25 years. She was a very active member of the Alumni Association where she served as the Association President for 9 years, raising $100,000 for the school's new concession stand and press box in 1999. As a Booster Club member and volunteer she was a huge supporter of the baseball team, her oldest son's favorite sport. Brannon Cochran Field was dedicated in his memory in 2007. She served as a gate and concession stand worker for countless numbers of games. She was an active member of the PTC, helped at campus clean up days, and acted as a room mom for many years.

Recently, the Montgomery Catholic Alumni Association called on Marty for help, and of course she said yes! The school thanked Marty for her service and for making Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School a better place.

Marty accepted the award and addressed the students. She explained that she "chose to send her children to Montgomery Catholic, not only for the education, but because of the close relationships and the family atmosphere." She received a standing ovation for her emotional acceptance.

The Charlie Harbin Distinguished Service Award was established by the Harbin family and is awarded by the school to recognize those selfless individuals who have significantly served Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School and exemplified its values in their lives.

Marty is a Class of 1972 graduate from Montgomery Catholic. She is married to Rick Huett and retired from the Montgomery Police Department.

Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School was honored to present her as the 2015 Harbin Distinguished Service Award winner.

SACS REPORT CARD

The Archdiocese of Mobile Catholic Schools went through the rigorus process of district reaccreditation with AdvancED this past year. AdvancED is the parent organization for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools on Accreditation and School Improvement (SACS). To earn SACS accreditation the district must meet the AdvancED accreditation standards, implement a continuous process of improvement, and host an external review team once every five years. This process demonstrates to students, parents, and the community that all schools in the district are focused on continuing to raise student achievement, provide safe and enriching learning environments, and maintain efficient and effective operations staffed by highly qualified educators.

An AdvancED External Review Team consisting of eight educational professionals from all over the United States arrived on January 11 to begin the evaluation. During that time, the review team evaluated the district's self-assessment, determined the degree to which the district meets the AdvancED accreditation standards, and made an accreditation recommendation.

The three-day process included interviewing 255 stakeholders, including Archbishop Rodi, Superintendent Gwen Byrd and her staff, Presidents and Principals of all schools, parents and employees from other Archdiocesan offices that support the schools. The team also visted multiple classrooms in eight schools, examined student performance results and reviewed evidence files that supported the Archdiocesan self-assessment process.

The External Review Team's Exit Report, shared on the last day of their visit with Archdiocesan stakeholders, recommended to the AdvancED Accreditation Commission that the Archdiocese of Mobile earn the distinction of SACS accreditation by AdvancED.

St. Jude Educational Institute Closes after 76 Years of Service to Montgomery

Though the closing of St. Jude Educational Institute was a momentously sad occasion in the Spring of 2014, Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School was able to reach out to its sister school and welcome both new students and faculty. Their addition to our community has been an incredible blessing and one that will have echoes into the future that help build us up and remember the legacy of the Pirates.

We welcomed a dozen students into our rolls, mostly seniors seeking a Catholic education to help prepare them for college and continue their journey to Christ. They graduated with a special honor in that they wore both the emblems of Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School and St. Jude on their gowns as they shook Archbishop Rodi's hand on stage.

A continued blessing will be the ministry of two of our teachers, Tricette Savage and Rhonda Carstarphen, who joined us from St. Jude's faculty. They have been amazing teachers this year, tireless in their commitment to our middle and high school students and successful in imparting wisdom. As we close the 2015 school year, we recognize that each of these students and teachers have so deeply been a part of our community that we consider them Knights moving forward!

These faculty and student additions have been a silver lining to the closure of St. Jude for which we feel immensely blessed.

To Montgomery Catholic Preparatory High School:

We are the proud parents of the Montgomery Catholic's 2015 graduate, Thomas Stokes, Jr. We are writing to express our thanks to Mrs. Ceasar, Mr. Barwick, and the staff at Montgomery Catholic High School for embracing our family at such a traumatic time in TJ's life, his senior year. With the closing of St. Jude, we were devastated. After many hours of prayers and visiting other schools, God laid on our hearts to visit Montgomery Catholic Preparatory High School. From the moment we entered the doors of Catholic, we were welcomed with professionalism, love, and great gratitude. This made our decision and transition much easier.

Over this past school year, Thomas has received an exceptional education from a group of adept teachers. Through his journey at Catholic, he received several awards from First Runner Up to the Homecoming King, Montgomery Quarterback Club Player of the Week, Jimmy Hitchcock Nominee, 2nd Place in the State in Boys (4x1) Relay Team, 5th Place in the Sate in Shot Put, Football MVP, Indoor Track MVP, Outdoor Track Coach's Award, Knights of the Round Table Award, a Division 1 Athletic Scholarship, and also being selected to play in the North vs South ALL-STAR game. Being a humble but competitive young man, Thomas exceeded every goal that was set before him with the help of the Montgomery Catholic Family. Words could not express our thanks and appreciation to such an amazing school. We are proud to say that our son is a Montgomery Catholic Alumni and we will forever be a part of the Montgomery Catholic Family.

Thank you again, Ivy & Thomas Stokes, Sr.

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT 2014-2015

Standing Tall

In 2014-2015 our middle and high schools passed through the threshold of many accomplishments of note that we want to celebrate! You will read of many accolades, but it is important to note that the 7-12's success in a major way came from a highly skillful and energetic faculty. They opened doors to knowledge and faith that welcomed our Knights to succeed and excel. We were blessed to see students grow in leadership academically, spiritually, athletically and socially. As we peek back through the door down the Classic building, through the M wing, the Belke Building, the gym, and through our Tom Doyle middle School building, we are aware of countless successes we've gathered and shared together – thanks to God's goodness to us.

A New Knight Era

Year one of what I call "A New Knight Era" is in the books. Foundations have been laid for our success, not only in the present, but also for higher levels of success in the future. We had some good coaches leave our school this year, but I feel like we replaced them with quality, energetic coaches, hungry with desire to build championship quality programs here at MCPS. I would not have it any other way. We will continue to build on all of our girls' and boys' programs to make them the very best we can be, the very best that have ever been here at Montgomery Catholic. I think each and every one of our student athletes deserve that from me as the leader of this athletic program, and I promise to do my best to keep us moving in the right direction.

We were very fortunate to convince some very talented coaches to join us this year. Coach Aubrey Blackwell is here as the leader of our football program. He has had tremendous impact on our school in the short 6 months he has been here. In his first spring, Coach Blackwell very nearly doubled our participation in football, and our new arrivals for next season haven't even been added to that total. He has been instrumental in heading up the total rebranding and new attitude of the football program. We hired Coach Amy Patterson to lead our Volleyball and Tennis programs.

Athletic Scholarships

- 4 Reggie Jackson (pictured right) Football, Mississippi Valley State
- 5 Trey Magdon (pictured left)
- 5 Taylor McCurdy (pictured center) Football, Alabama A&M

She has had much success on the high school level, and spent the last 3 years leading the Huntingdon College program. One thing the program needed was stability, and it is my hope that Coach Patterson is here to stay and can build on the success in volleyball MCPS has had recently. As many of you know, we had to find a new leader for the boys' Basketball program very late in the school year. Though it was not normally a time to find a coach, we were able to land the one and only coach we talked with for the position. Coach Robb McGaughey will be leading our "New Knight Era" program going forward. We feel like Coach McGaughey was the perfect fit for our community, for our school, and for our athletes. We are so very proud and happy that he will be the face of our program going forward, and he will use his expertise to build our program into a championship contender. #### STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT 2014-2015

Blooming Open

A picture is worth a thousand words...

Open the doors to the St. Bede Campus and walk through the hallways. You will be able to see one of the gifts left to us by the Student Council. This year, they paid to have 8x10 photos developed of many of the events of our school year. These pictures are posted all around the school just like family photos on display in a home. What a blessing it is to see our "year in review" through the eyes of the camera...and what a year it has been! This year we elected our first ever all-boy Student Council, and they were a great example of what it means to serve others. We continued to have a great Science Olympiad team, and this year began a Crazy 8's Math Club for students in grades 3-5. We were amazed at the reading success of our students. When challenged to make their Accelerated Reading goals all four quarters, many succeeded and we were able to treat 85 students to the movie as their reward. Our academic successes were apparent also, as our students continued to score above grade level on the Iowa Test of Basic Skills (ITBS). The second annual Mardi Gras parade was a huge success and the Cultural Day celebration of Japan was a wonderful ending to our year. Throughout the year, what kept us grounded in who we are was our participation in the Holy Eucharist. We were blessed to attend weekly Mass and to pray together at Stations of the Cross and monthly Eucharistic Adoration. I would like to offer a word of thanks to Fr. Alex, Fr. Pat, and our faculty, and staff who work tirelessly to open the doors of opportunity for our students...opportunities of faith, virtue, and wisdom.

Laurie Gulley Principal, St. Bede Campus

One of my favorite quotes is "Be an opener of Doors" – attributed to Ralph Waldo Emerson.

This year at Holy Spirit our students, faculty, and staff have been door openers. Our students often opened the door of success this year; from sports to clubs to school wide activities and events the door of success was never shut at Holy Spirit. While the students garner the accolades, you and I know it takes a fully engaged and energetic community to push our children to succeed. This community starts with our parents. Holy Spirit parents were opening doors through volunteerism both in the school and the wider MCPS community. Thank you parents for be willing to assist our students, faculty, and staff throughout the school year. The Holy Spirit faculty was also opening the door to success this year through their tireless dedication to our students. Thank you faculty!!! Finally, I would like to take a moment to thank Father Driscoll and Father McKenna for keeping our spiritual doors open throughout the school year. Attendance at weekly Mass is truly a highlight for many students, faculty, and staff. The beauty that unfolds in the Mass renews and strengthens our community bond. The espirit de corps that is on display at the Holy Spirit Campus is amazing and humbling. I know that the faculty, staff, students, and priests look forward to continuing to open news doors for our not only our MCPS community but our wider Montgomery Community.

I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in Me, though he may die, he shall live. And whoever lives and believes in Me shall never die.

Sister
Jeannette
Marie
Donnelly SL
April 27, 1922 April 9, 2014

With love for the Sisters of Loretto, a love to help others read, and despite the opposition of her mother, Sister Jeannette requested admission to the novitiate where she received the habit and the name Sister Jeannette Marie on December 8, 1939. She made her first vows two years later and began teaching in 1942. She served many places including Alabama where she taught a total of seven years (1951-1958) in Daphne, in Mobile, and at Montgomery Catholic.

"I like to teach reading. I consider that missionary work—to teach children how to read and to love reading...When they can read, they can learn anything they want to learn, and teach others to read, and learn to help their own children... That was my mission, I think. It's what I loved the most. It means so much to me when they walk out in May or June and they can really read when they didn't know anything about reading when they came."

In 2011 Sister Jeannette Marie Came home to Loretto Motherhouse Infirmary, whre was an active community member and continued to tutor in reading until just days before her death. Of her 72 years of religious life she said, "My memories of myself as a Sister of Loretto is of happiness and hard work, trying to do for others while living in the presence of God. I know I could return to any of the places I have taught and be welcomed and loved."

Regan
January 23, 1922 October 23, 2014
Father Desmond
Regan, a priest of the Diocese of Birmingham, passed away at the age of 92. He is survived by his sister, Patricia Simon of Birmingham, Michigan. Father Regan served in multiple parishes and ministries in the Dioceses of Birmingham and Mobile, including the North Alabama Missions, St Theresa's in Leeds, Our Lady of Lourdes in Huffman, Holy Infant of Prague in Trussville, St Aloysius in Bessemer, St Jude's in Sylacauga, and John Carroll High School in Birmingham.

He was born in Dublin, Ireland and immigrated to Detroit, Michigan at age four. He entered seminary during the great depression in Cullman, Alabama. Benedict's Monastery welcomed him at age 15. In 1942 he graduated from St. Mary's in Baltimore, Maryland. He dreamed of one day ministering to congregations in Asia but eventually adjusted his mission territory to the southern United States.

Father Regan was appointed as the first priest principal for Montgomery Catholic High School at St. Peter parish. Among his many responsibilities and community activities, he frequently dined with a Baptist preacher – Martin Luther King, Jr. – and was involved with Rosa Parks events.

His sister, Pat, remembers her brother as a great athlete in basketball and baseball, later being recruited to play professional baseball which he did not accept. More importantly she said Father Regan was a noteworthy man of great integrity. "He was the best example of the Seal of Confession."

During high school Michael was recognized as an extraordinary athlete lettering in both football and basketball. Additionally he was well known city wide for his excellence as a tennis player, taking after his dad who was equally known in the sport.

After a paralyzing traffic accident which left Michael confined to a wheel chair, he was continually plagued with ongoing health issues. Nevertheless he became the glue that held the class of 1977 together. Long before Facebook, he was communicating with his fellow alum, keeping everyone in the loop about one another. For his Catholic friends' memories he often would record musical CDs of their high school time period and was committed to rallying his troops for every alumni event he was aware of.

Mike was lovingly admired and will long be remembered for his courage in later years to bring people together and to live his life with joy!

Christopher loved so much in life, his family, being with his friends, going to the beach, Alabama football (in his mixed Auburn/Alabama family) that it is hard to list everything. He made friends everywhere he went and turned his neighborhood into an extended family. He was proud of having recently completed his college education.

John Patrick Ronan ('81) September 27, 1963 -January 11, 2015

John attended Montgomery Catholic for twelve years and was a lifelong member of St. Bede the Venerable parish. John graduated from Auburn University in 1985 and used his degree to become a "hometown banker" for more than 30 years.

He loved participating in sports, especially basketball. Many stories were told and lasting friendships were made from the intramural basketball team in Auburn. He also loved coaching his children in all sports – Katherine in basketball and the boys in soccer. He finally realized that soccer was a real sport, not just a conditioning one until a real sport came along!

Why I Give

Recently, I got an email from Anna Lee Ingalls asking if I'd mind sharing why donating to MCPS is important to me. While not the most eloquent writer (I'm wishing I had Mr. Conway to proofread this right about now), I told Anna Lee I'd be happy to oblige, in hopes that it might spark others to make a similar commitment.

A couple of years ago, I attended an alumni event in Birmingham. It was great seeing some faces that I haven't seen in a while, as well as hearing Mrs. Ceasar and Anna Lee discuss all the exciting changes and growth at Catholic. A few days later, I reached out to Anna Lee asking about setting up a monthly pledge. For me, a small monthly pledge was a way to show my gratitude for the education, values,

and experiences
I gained while attending Catholic.
I truly believe that along with all other alumni, I experienced as unique and fulfilling a high school

I couldn't have asked for a better setting for growing scholastically, as well as spiritually. What I learned at Catholic laid the foundation for success in college, marriage, and now fatherhood.

experience as possible. Looking back.

At first, I was reluctant to reach out because I felt as if my pledge would be insignificant. However, after thinking about it, I realized that if everybody thought this way, Catholic would lack the funds necessary for continued growth and giving future generations the gifts I'd been given. As Catholics, we are obliged to assist with the material needs of the Church, each according to our own ability. The pledge we make isn't life changing for us. In fact, we hardly notice it when it comes out of our account each month. However, when combined with similar contributions made by others, it can really have a positive effect on Catholic's bottom line, as well as their ability to enrich the lives of future students and their families.

At Catholic, I gained invaluable life lessons, friendships, and an education that will benefit me for the rest of my life. Our monthly contribution is a small token of appreciation for those gifts I was given at Catholic. Knowing that our contribution helps provide similar experiences to current and future students feels good and I hope others will be motivated to do the same.

Go Knights,

BUSINESS OFFICE UPDATE AND FINANCIAL REPORT 2014-15

Montgomery Catholic Preparatory School continued its focus on classroom and teacher technology, facility improvements, and debt reduction throughout fiscal year 2014-15. These initiatives will remain a focus in the coming year as our goals remain to equip our classrooms with the latest and best technology, continually maintain and improve our facilities and reduce/ payoff our debt. Also, very importantly. we want to continue to enhance teacher compensation. We were able to include an overall 3% salary increase in the 2014-15 budgets and again in our 2015-16 budgets. Additionally, $60,000 in proceeds from our 2014-15 Annual Fund campaign were committed to funding teacher enhancement and a $25,000 incentive pool has been established for 2015-16 to assist in funding teacher education advancement.

Technology Investments: We

continued our One to One Laptop Initiative in 2014-15, as we equipped an additional 75 freshmen with MacBooks.
We will equip our incoming Freshmen class this year (approximately 100 students), at that point having all of our high school students included in the Initiative. This total Initiative investment of approximately $500,000 (including insurance, security and accessories) has been very well received by both students and faculty. Additionally PICE provided the funding that allowed us to provide a MacBook cart for our Holy Spirit campus.

Facility Improvements: We were able to complete several significant facility projects in 2014-15, totally over $190,000. The projects included a new fully equipped Robotics Lab and the installation of new lockers in our fieldhouse, both funded by Partners in Catholic Education (PICE). PICE also funded the purchase of a much needed newer, more dependable school bus. Additionally, a major facilities improvement were completed, the resurfacing of our parking lot at the high school campus. Also, the St. Bede campus completed the construction of a beautiful new playground, funded primarily by a generous gift from the St. Bede Parish.

Debt Reduction: We were once again able to make a significant reduction in our long term building debt. This remains an important initiative, as our goal is to pay off the debt and better position our school for future capital projects. We began the 2014-15 school year with long term building debt of $657,500 and were able to reduce that balance by $459,000 to a June 30, 2015 balance of $198,000. This current year debt reduction clearly demonstrates the commitment we have to this initiative and the strong capital support of our families and MCPS donors.

Finally, a very significant development this year was the increase in scholarship awards provided to several of our existing and new MCPS families by the Alabama Opportunity Scholarship Fund (AOSF). AOSF is a scholarship granting organization, operating under the guidelines of the Alabama Accountability Act. The annual awards range from $5,000 to $8,000 and we had a total of 75 students that received the awards in 2014-15. This program is allowing families to apply and if accepted, enroll at MCPS, a very positive alternative/choice they would not otherwise have.
